

We are very happy with being a part of the no call list. It's essential in keeping this program in place. We hate having telemarketers call us in the past & some do slip through. We hang up on them right away. It's a complete waste of our time & cost us money every time we pick up our phone! It's very disruptive, especially during quality time with our families after work or in the evening when we're doing homework with our child. Please keep the no call list active. Getting rid of it would be a huge mistake! It's been working fantastic for us the consumer!!
